FULL ANNOUNCEMENT TEXT

I. Funding Opportunity Description

A. Program Objective

The National Sea Grant Office (NSGO) and the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) established a new Graduate Fellowship Program in Population Dynamics and Marine Resource Economics (Program) in 1999. The intent of the Program is to award a limited number of fellowships each year to students who are interested in careers related to 1) the population dynamics of living marine resources and the development and implementation of quantitative methods for assessing their status, and 2) the economics of the conservation and management of living marine resources.

This announcement is to solicit applications for fellowships in Marine Resource Economics. There is a parallel and similar announcement soliciting applications for fellowships in Population Dynamics.

For the FY 2011 competition now being announced, funds to award two new fellowships in Marine Resource Economics are anticipated.

The fellowships will provide support for up to two years for highly qualified graduate students working towards a Ph.D. in marine resource economics, natural resource economics, or environmental economics. Continued support after the first year will be contingent upon the availability of Federal funds and satisfactory performance by the Fellow. In addition to his/her faculty advisor, each Fellow will be required to work closely with an expert (mentor) from NMFS who may provide data for the Fellow's thesis, serve on the Fellow's committee, and host an annual summer internship at the participating NMFS facility.

Mentors will be from participating NMFS Science Centers or Laboratories. Fellows may work, as necessary, at the participating NMFS facility during some or all of the academic year at the mutual discretion of mentor, faculty adviser, and Fellow.

B. Program Priorities

The goals of the Program are to 1) encourage qualified applicants to pursue careers in marine resource economics; 2) increase available expertise related to the economic analysis of living marine resource conservation and management decisions; 3) foster closer relationships between academic scientists and NMFS; and 4) provide real-world experience to graduate students and accelerate their career development.

C. Program Authority

Authority for the Resource Economics Graduate Fellowship Program is provided by the following: 33 U.S.C. 1127(a).

II. Award Information

A. Funding Availability

The NMFS - Sea Grant Joint Graduate Fellowship Program in Marine Resource Economics expects to support two new fellowships for up to 2 years for each fellowship.

B. Project/Award Period

The fellowships have an anticipated start date of June 1, 2011 and will be awarded for up to two years. Funding for the second year of the fellowship is contingent on the availability of federal funding and satisfactory performance by the fellow.

C. Type of Funding Instrument

The Fellow may work on his/her thesis research or related activity at the parent institution and/or participating NMFS facility. The award for each Fellowship, contingent upon the availability of Federal funds, will be a multi-year cooperative agreement in the amount of $38,500 per year for up to two years. The award will be a cooperative agreement because of substantial involvement by NMFS as the Fellow's work will be overseen by NMFS in mentoring and hosting successful applicants.

III. Eligibility Information

A. Eligible Applicants

Prospective Fellows must be United States citizens. At the time of application, prospective Marine Resource Economics Fellows must be admitted to a PhD degree program in natural resource economics or a related field at an institution of higher education in the United States or its territories or submit a signed letter from the institution indicating provisional acceptance to a PhD degree program conditional on obtaining financial support such as this fellowship. Applications must come from Sea Grant programs and must be submitted through www.Grants.gov.

B. Cost Sharing or Matching Requirement
